LOT TO BOMB PARLIAMENT

CROWDER MAY HAVE TO FORCE 'CURE' ON CUBA

Menocal Is Loath to Accept Reform.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 9.—John B. Milholland, member of the brokerage house of Milholland and Hough, tonight shot and killed himself in his residence here when police arrived to arrest him on a warrant charging embezzlement of $50,000.

Partner Tells of Big Theft, Broker Suicide

The warrant was based on a confession by Mr. Milholland's partner, Jay B. Hough, who told the police the firm had taken funds entrusted to them by James F. Callahan, a millionaire of Wallace, Idaho.

THIEF SHOTS GIRL, BUT SHE POMMELS HIM

Sister and Brother Also Beat Him.

Exploits of a celluloid Raffles having fired their fancies, the two daughters and the son of Patrolman Frank J. Kriz of the Marquette Station emerged from the neighborhood movie last night discussing styles in strategy to cope with real life burglars. They are Marie, Liberty, and Fred.

THE RESTLESS AGE

Lucille Morland, eagerly awaiting the arrival of Tom Wickham, became impatient and nervous as 9 o'clock approached.

"What in the world is keeping him?" For an hour she had been posed effectively, in her most alluring gown, on the big davenport before a crackling fire. She made a pretty picture, and she knew it. He could not fail to be impressed by her beauty.

British Seize Evidence and 2 Sinn Feiners

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 9.—When the United States steamer Honolulu arrived here this morning an armed guard was placed aboard. As the steamer proceeded past Queenstown to Cork the armed force was seen to be still aboard. The Honolulu carried a large quantity of provisions for the unemployed and their dependents in Cork.

CANADIAN COIN AND "ARREST" AWAIT AIRMEN

The Tribune will accept subscriptions to pay the expenses of the American airmen returning from the Hudson's Bay country. A limit of $2 is put on individual contributions.

BY JAMES WHITTAKER.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The Canadian navy, feeling human sympathy for the three American balloonists who are on their slow way from Moose Factory, on James Bay, and whose financial status is such that they might be stranded here after their arrival, has forwarded a message of welcome and offered money aid to the three naval aviators.

HATFIELDS FIND PEACE AT GRAVE OF "DEVIL ANSE"

Logan, W. Va., Jan. 9.—Capt. Anderson (Devil Anse) Hatfield, one time Confederate army officer and for many years one of the most famous feudists in the southern mountains, who died Friday, was today buried beside his two sons, Troy and Elias, in the family plot, high up in the mountain range. The ceremony was attended by eleven surviving children, forty grandchildren, and several great grandchildren.

Quit Fighting Forever, Vow of Son.

BUCKING MAIL BUS TOO ROUGH FOR ROUGH RIDER

Thundering through the night, the United States mail struck a bump last night at Stony Island avenue and East 124th street. It was the second time in a row that the mail bus had been wrecked.

COMMAND OF SEAS IS A MAD DREAM NOW, BRITISH EXPERT SAYS

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Viscount Bothermer, former secretary of state for the air forces, in an article today in the Sunday Pictorial, under the caption, "The Policy of the Big Battle Ship," submits a startling contention directly challenging the traditional basis of the British naval policy.

STRICKEN IN LOOP CAFE; FORMER ALDERMAN DIES

Wilson Shufelt, prominent south side real estate operator and one time alderman from the West ward, was seized with an attack of heart disease yesterday evening at Henrich's restaurant, 11 West Randolph street, and died while being taken to St. Luke's hospital. He was 60 years old.

PEACE PLANS FAIL

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—All negotiations looking to peace in Ireland have broken down, if reports in official circles are to be credited. Definite information is lacking, but it is said that Premier Lloyd George has refused to consider the Sinn Fein's proposal for the withdrawal of the home rule bill.

REPORT BIG AMBUSH

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin says it is rumored that crown forces have been ambushed at Dunboyne, County Meath, on the border of Dublin county. The dispatch adds that the operations appear to have been extended over a wide area, from Leixlip, in the east, through Celbridge, Maynooth and Kildare, at all of which places road bridges are reported to have been destroyed to Batterdown, in the west. All the fires in the districts concerned have been put out.

JAIL IRISH LEADER

BELFAST, Jan. 9.—Troops at Derry today surrounded the residence of Joseph O'Doherty, Sinn Fein member of parliament, and arrested him. He will be interned. Two previous raids on his home were without result.

141 "HOBOS" FILE INTO TRINITY FOR EARLY SERVICES

New York, Jan. 9.—After services started this morning at historic Trinity church, Broadway and Wall street, 141 unemployed men, members of the "hobos" union, entered the church and filled up the front pews. The men filed quietly into the edifice during a prayer and took their places, without any commotion, in the pews designated by the sexton.

LENIN SUMMONS RED CHIEFTAINS TO WAR COUNCIL

Supreme General Staff
Waits in Moscow.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.
PARIS, Jan. 9.—Bolshevik political commissars, attached to the armies, are being summoned in haste to Moscow for a council of war with the supreme general staff.

This information was received in Paris via Switzerland, and it is believed it presages that grave events are in preparation.

Transportation Activities.
The transport commissars also was directed to attend the conference. The transportation department already is in the midst of the greatest activity. General orders have been circulated and all rolling stock be repaired and ready for use.

Forty per cent of the freight cars formerly used for civilian purposes have been transferred to the military authorities, and everywhere locomotives and cars are being overhauled. Large convoys of munitions and supplies are being hauled westward from the Crimea and Siberia. This consists of material captured from Gens. Kolchak, Wrangel and Denikin. This material is to be concentrated opposite the Polish and Rumanian frontiers.

Polish Adopt French System.

Simultaneously with the Moscow announcement, Warsaw says that hereafter the Polish army will be trained according to French army principles. Therefore Polish officers and troops showed three different methods—German, Russian and Austrian.

Diversity in forms of training has hampered elasticity and interchangeability in the units. Adoption of the French method is believed the first step toward a Franco-Polish military alliance which Pilsudski, Polish chief of state, is coming to Paris to cement.

ROMANIA FEARS REDS

BY LARRY RUE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 9.—The menace of a Red invasion on the Bessarabian front is causing Rumania to resume negotiations for an entente with Bulgaria. Bucharest is reported to be inclined to accept Bulgaria on the latter's terms.

Red troops which crossed the Georgia border are retreating behind the Azerbaijan line following an order from Moscow stopping the invasion. The fact that considerable merchandise, mostly Italian, is being sent to the bolsheviks through Georgia is believed to have influenced the temporary suspension of the military.

Meanwhile the threatening Turkish invasion is weakening the Georgian government and paving the way for its transformation into a soviet.

MOSCOW THREATENS KEMAL

By the Associated Press.—M. D. Dimal, the Armenian soviet delegate to the Turkish-Armenian peace conference at Alexandropol, has gone to Ankara to notify the Turkish Nationalists that it is reported the Moscow government would withdraw aid if the Nationalists come to an agreement with the Constantinople government in their pending negotiations.

The bolshevik mission at Ankara is making efforts to nullify the negotiations. Part of a group of 200 bolshevik officers already has reached Ankara for training the Nationalists, and Nationalist officers are on their way to Moscow to begin one year's military training with the soviet forces.

Russia and Ukraine Agree.

By the Associated Press.—A military and economic convention between the Russian and Ukrainian soviet republics was signed at Moscow Dec. 28, says a dispatch to the Dagens Nyheter from Helsinki. The convention provides that the two states shall have joint commissions for national defense, foreign affairs, finance, commerce, labor and communications.

Arkansas Sends Machine Gun to End White Feud

Pine Bluff, Ark., Jan. 9.—A detachment of the Pine Bluff machine gun company has been dispatched to the scene of a reported outbreak resulting from a feud among white residents at Kingland, Ark., a small hill town thirty-two miles southwest of here.

In a street fight two men are said to have been seriously injured. According to telephone reports, leaders of the opposing factions met on a street of the little town this morning and engaged in a fight, in which George Brandon, 55, a townsman, was shot in the leg, and D. X. Ledbetter, a farmer, sustained a cut slash.

BURGLAR WONDERS WHAT HIT HIM

The burglar in the center picture entered the home of Policeman Frank J. Kriz. Shortly afterward Kriz's son, Fred, and two daughters, Misses Marie and Liberty, returned home and surprised the intruder. He shot Miss Marie in the leg. The trio grappled with him and beat him into unconsciousness. The picture at the left shows Fred surveying the wreckage in the kitchen after the battle. At the right Miss Liberty is pointing to a bullet hole in the wall made by the burglar, who was identified as John Schultz, alias Charles Bolpen, an ex-convict.

HARDING RESIGNS AS SENATOR IN FAVOR OF WILLIS

Smoot Confers on Tax Revision.

Marion, O., Jan. 9.—President Elect Harding resigned today as United States senator from Ohio, forwarding his letter of resignation to Columbus for action of the newly elected Republican governor, Harry L. Davis, who assumes office tomorrow.

The move was in accordance with the president elect's announced purpose to give up his senate seat as soon as a change in the state administration would admit the appointment of a Republican successor. Gov. Elect Davis has indicated that Frank B. Willis, elected senator for the term beginning next March, would be named to fill the vacancy.

Following the wishes of Mr. Willis, Mr. Harding made Jan. 15 the effective date of his resignation. By giving up his senatorial office then, the president elect will be permitted to devote the last six weeks before his inauguration wholly to the preparation for the duties of his administration.

Electors May Go March 4.

That the inauguration ceremonies on March 4 may include a ceremony unique in history of such affairs was indicated today when it became known that Mr. Harding had approved a plan to have all the members of the electoral college in Washington for the occasion. The proposal was made by the group of Ohio electors.

Such a meeting would have no formal nor legal significance since the actual casting of ballots by the electors takes place tomorrow in the various state capitals and they will be canvassed by congress more than two weeks in advance of inauguration day.

Tax revision, appropriation measures and reorganization of the legislative departments of the government were discussed by Mr. Harding today with Senator Smoot, Utah.

Smoot Sees Tax Revision.
Afterwards, Mr. Smoot said he believed the president elect had definite ideas that would lead to practical economies and reforms during the coming administration.

The Utah senator predicted that $200,000,000 would be saved annually by reorganization of the departments on an efficiency basis and that many of the burdens of taxation would be lifted by the revisions of the next congress.

He said the higher rates of the excess profits schedule would have to be reduced, however, and gave it as his opinion that the head of that class of taxes would be fixed at about 40 per cent.

EVANSTON SEEKS FUNDS FOR BIBLE CLASS IN SCHOOLS

One thousand Evanston citizens met at the Woman's club last night under auspices of the Evanston council of religious education to discuss the advisability of continuing Bible study in the schools. Dr. George Craig Stewart said the nation was suffering from crime and immorality and that laxity in churches was to blame.

A resolution was adopted pledging members to a campaign to underwrite the Bible courses. William Eastman, member of the school board, said the project should be abandoned because of legal technicalities that render it impracticable.

What the people should do, he said, was to vote a course of character building and Americanization.

A model Sunday school class of twenty children was exhibited on the rostrum. Miss Ruth Lowman told them the story of Nebuchadnezzar, Daniel, and Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.

In answer to a question concerning the reason for the hanging gardens of Babylon, 13 year old Johnny Redding said they "were put up so the queen could take the air when she got tired of married life and looking at the king's face."

NOT BIGGER NAVY, BUT BETTER MEN, CALLED U. S. NEED

"If there was ever any foolishness about it is the foolishness of believing that we will make ourselves strong by the kind of navy we build,"

Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., speaking before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall last night, made this statement before an audience of 3,000. His topic was "An Ancient Story with a Modern Meaning."

"There are those in Washington who think that the world can be saved by an emergency tariff law or by a national budget. I say that America cannot be saved by a big army, or by a big navy; it can be saved by better men and women acting on their best instincts."

Termining prudently a nasty little virtue, the bishop declared that the trouble with the citizens of Chicago, Illinois and America was that they were afraid to trust themselves to carry out their visions of international affairs, and pitch their lives high.

"I am afraid America will not pitch itself in the concert of the nations at a high level," he said.

BOLSHEVISM IS THEME AT REDS' ARGENTINE MEET

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 9.—Agents of Trotsky and Lenin have made such progress with bolshevik propaganda in Argentina that all other problems facing the congress of socialists now assembled at Bahia Blanca have been subordinated to the decision whether Argentina's socialists shall join the third international, thereby openly declaring allegiance with the Russian bolsheviks.

Although voting in the first day's session shows the third internationalists to be in the minority, still the supporters are so strong as to make their program a most important one for decision by the congress and it is expected that a spirited contest will result when the congress is ready to ballot upon this question.

The bolshevik supporters are opposed by the more conservative socialists under the leadership of Justo and Dickinson, two socialist deputies.

Reports from Bahia Blanca say it is likely the present congress will not declare in favor of sending delegates to the Russian international, as there is a strong movement afoot to organize another international.

CHILE TROOPS URGED TO BAR BANDITS' PATH

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 9.—Argentine officials have asked Chile to police the border with its carabinieri and prevent the escape of the bandits who have been robbing, burning, and slaying in southern Argentina and who are said to be headed for the Chilean frontier.

The Argentine rural police are preparing for a battle near Rio Gallegos, for which place the bandits are said to be on their way in large numbers. A jail at Rio Gallegos containing 220 prisoners is said to be the object of their trip to this point, as the prisoners have received word if they break out they will be given arms and allowed to join the robbers' band.

Cheer for Bolsheviks Given by British Labor

LONDON, Jan. 9.—John Robert Clines, labor member of parliament for Manchester, former food controller and president of the National Union of General Workers, was howled down today while attempting to address a meeting of the unemployed at Camberwell. He was obliged to desist, a large section of the audience shouting: "We want revolution! We want soviets!"

ANARCHY NEAR IN BOLIVIA AS PARTIES FIGHT

Convention Is Ruled by Minority.

BY J. W. WHITE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 9.—Meager reports reaching Argentina from Bolivia, due to the rigid censorship which has been put into effect, indicate that the republic is verging on a state of anarchy owing to failure of the revolutionary party to establish a stable government.

The situation is made more acute by the fact that the revolutionary party, which seized the government last July, is now split into two factions entirely hostile to each other over the breaking up of the national convention which was designed to reform the constitution and to provide for the election of a president.

Form a Small Minority.
The republican, or revolutionary, party represents but a small minority in Bolivian politics, but it controlled the national convention by refusing to seat members of the liberal, radical and socialist parties which comprise the majority.

The followers of Bautista Saavedra, who formed the majority of the seated convention, but does not represent social or political prestige, then overruled the leading members of their own party, including Daniel Salamanca, the party chief, and attempted to force Saavedra upon the country as president without popular elections.

The army, which had been kept out of politics since the July revolution, is now backing Saavedra as chairman, choosing two obscure provincial deputies to organize the two important committees.

This caused profound indignation among Salamanca's followers, including the followers of Escalier, who directed the July revolution from Buenos Aires.

The convention then proceeded, voting down other party leaders and putting second class men at the head of all committees.

It is the general opinion among political leaders here that a stable government cannot be established in Bolivia, unless by another revolution, since, with the republican party divided, no matter which side seized the reins the government would be unstable, as it would be opposed by half its own party as well as by the radicals, socialists and liberals.

Foreign relations and the new constitution were the convention's most important considerations, for the revolution has put into peril the entire Chilean faction which is determined to get back for Bolivia part of the territory lost to Chile in the nitrate wars.

Saavedra's forces, however, voted down Salamanca as chairman, choosing two obscure provincial deputies to organize the two important committees.

This caused profound indignation among Salamanca's followers, including the followers of Escalier, who directed the July revolution from Buenos Aires.

The convention then proceeded, voting down other party leaders and putting second class men at the head of all committees.

Takes Ten Figures to Show How British Trade Picks Up
LONDON, Jan. 9.—British imports for 1920 were 1,886,000,000, an increase of £10,500,000 over 1919. Exports amounted to 1,500,000,000 for 1920, an increase of nearly £500,000,000.

SHANGHAI TRAM OFFICER; DETROIT DEFIES COMPANY

Lays Tracks Despite Writ to Halt Municipality.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 9.—Guarded by about 200 city policemen, 100 laborers employed by the city early this morning laid tracks of Detroit's new municipal street railway across tracks of the Detroit Railway company at St. Jean and Mack avenues, after Circuit Judge Harry J. Dingeman had issued an injunction restraining the city from crossing the tracks.

While the work was being accomplished L. J. Burdick, assistant general manager of the Detroit United railway, who had in his pocket the restraining order, was a virtual prisoner on Belle Isle, due, he said, to his being taken to the park by the police.

This Bridge Works—At Times.
When the work began Burdick is said to have approached Joseph S. Goodwin, manager of the municipal system, and demanded that the work be halted.

He was about to produce the injunction papers, it is said, when a policeman put him in a patrol wagon and took him across the Belle Isle draw bridge to the island for investigation on a charge of disturbing the peace.

He was soon liberated, but was unable to return to the city because the tender of the draw bridge would not close the span. The bridge had been closed to permit the patrol wagon to cross and later to permit the wagon to return to the city after Burdick had been left at the island police station.

Stays on Isle All Night.
Burdick was unable to cross until daylight (the Belle Isle bridge is closed to all except police traffic at midnight). Burdick, in a statement today, declared contempt of court proceedings would be started by his company against the city, and that he intended to file a personal suit against the city for false arrest.

The break between the city and the Detroit United Railway company followed a legal fight carried on between the city and company since last April, when Detroit voters at a regular election authorized the city to expend $15,000,000 in the construction of a municipal street railway system.

Company Starts Suits.
Following the election the company started several suits. The most important was brought on the grounds that sample ballots distributed previous to the election explained the municipal street car program in detail but that the official ballots did not give the information. The city won the case.

The case was then appealed to the United States Supreme court, which heard arguments last week. Decision has not been announced.

Another suit held that the municipal railway election was not secret, the ballots being so printed, "that the choice of voters was revealed to election inspectors when that part of the ballot bearing the number was torn off." This suit is pending in Circuit court.

FOOD, CLOTHING DROP; RENT, FUEL, LIGHT, INCREASE

U.S. Cost of Living Survey in Eight Cities Given.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—Figures issued by the department of labor tonight gave interesting light on the cost of living. During the last six months of 1920 the expense met by the average family for food, clothing and furnishings showed a considerable decrease. Rent, fuel and light made considerable increases.

The figures made public cover expenditures by average families in eight cities—Baltimore, Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Oakland, and Seattle.

The average cost of living in the eight cities at the beginning of the New Year was 99.2 per cent over the average cost in 1914, while at the end of last June it was 151.1 per cent.

Using the 1914 cost as a base, the percentage increase cost of the various items making up the average family budget in the eight cities were as follows in June and December:

Food, June, 110.9; December, 75.6.
Clothing, June, 104.3; December, 109.5.
Housing, June, 41.7; December, 46.5.
Fuel and light, June, 67.5; December, 79.9.
Furniture and furnishings, June, 101.8; December, 181.9.

The percentage increase in the cost of living in the eight cities over the 1914 cost were given as follows:

City	June	December
Baltimore	114.3	96.8
Cleveland	116.8	104
Chicago	114.6	93.3
Detroit	129	118.6
New York	110.2	101.4
Philadelphia	113.5	100.4
San Francisco	99	85.1
Seattle	110.5	94.1

The cities' range is taken as typical of the range in all districts of the country.

50 YEARS OF JOY

Four Generations Join in the Celebration of Chicagoans' Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stroud as they appeared fifty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stroud as they appear today.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stroud, residents of Chicago for forty-nine years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 5312 Maryland avenue, yesterday, with two children, four grandchildren and three great grandchildren there to help them.

Married in London, England, they came to the United States shortly afterwards, and Mr. Stroud established a grocery and meat market at Thirty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue. He remained in business there for forty years. His son, Harry D. Stroud, succeeded him. Mrs. Alice F. Gordon is a daughter.

"It's fifty golden years and a half century of happiness," is the way Mr. Stroud puts it, and Mrs. Stroud nods in corroboration.

POLICE PROTEST PAROLE LAW THAT ENDANGERS THEM

Ex-Convicts Have Killed 12 Cops in Two Years.

BY JOHN KELLY.
(Veteran Police Reporter.)

Those low, rumbling sounds which disturbed the serenity of the Sabbath were not caused by an atmospheric disturbance. They were due to emphatic expression of "Ayes" and "Noes" at the annual election of officers of the Policemen's Benevolent association.

The meeting was held on the seventh floor of the Masonic temple, Stephen O'Meara, president of the association, presided. When he called for a viva voce vote on questions that came up the sound waves produced those rumblings which many persons mistook for seismic disturbances.

O'Meara was reflected by acclamation. He said that he had served four terms as president. James Small, vice president, John J. Ryan, financial secretary, and Francis P. Larkin, treasurer, also were reflected with opposition.

The only contest was that for the office of recording secretary, made vacant by the death of John Kerr, last August. Patrolman Thomas A. Reagan of Fillmore street station was elected out of a field of four. He received 175 votes out of a total of 230 delegates. The unsuccessful candidates were Charles J. McCarthy, Michael J. Hernon, and Harry M. Costello.

Cops Oppose Parole.

President O'Meara brought every man to his feet when he said that the association should go on record against the parole law.

"Twelve of our members were killed in the last two years by paroled convicts," said the president. "Those men were sent to prison for various crimes. They should have been kept there until their sentences expired. The killing of those twelve policemen by paroled convicts cost this association $24,000. Let us go on record to abolish this parole system."

Every delegate stood up to register his approval.

During the last year eighty members of the police department died or were killed in the performance of duty. This is the largest number of deaths in the history of the department.

Col. Edna Addresses Men.
After the election of officers Col. W. G. Edna, vice president of the Central Trust company, addressed the delegates. He told about his railroading days, when he was a brakeman on a coal train, and of the founding of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, of which organization he is still a member.

"Since 1832," he said, "the brotherhood has paid out $50,000,000 in benefit claims, and has a sinking fund of $5,000,000. I have always taken a deep interest in the Policemen's Benevolent association, and I congratulate you on the able manner in which you have conducted the affairs of the society. I am in favor of a higher wage for policemen. Most policemen are good citizens—a d—d sight better than some of their critics."

The net receipts from the annual benefit were about $90,000.

Bomb Wrecks North Side Grocery and Market

BANKS
CHICAGO

THE Savings Department of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank has served the people of Chicago over 54 years. Today more than 92,000 persons carry savings accounts with this financial institution. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are paid out semi-annually by the bank to these depositors in interest on their savings. Most of this interest money remains in the savings accounts and makes additional principal—constantly drawing interest.

for Inaugural.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Upon his arrival in Springfield this afternoon Gov. Elihu H. H. Small said two men had accepted his offer of positions in his department heads. One of these is Dr. G. R. Miller of Kankakee, who tomorrow will become director of public works in place of Frank L. Bennett. Within this department rest the construction of the $60,000,000 bond issue plan for good roads and the $20,000,000 that has been authorized for the waterway project.

The other is George A. Barr of Joliet, member of the constitutional convention and brother of Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet, who will become director of trade and commerce, in succession to William H. Boyd, who has resigned and who quits office tomorrow.

Barr Slow to Accept.

Until tonight the decision of George Barr to enter the Small cabinet had been discounted. His acceptance reached Springfield at about the same time that Mr. Small, Mayor Thompson and hundreds of Republicans from all sections of the state reported for the inaugural ceremonies that start at tomorrow noon.

Governor Elihu Small and Mayor Thompson arrived in Springfield this afternoon. Three carloads of city hall leaders were on the train that was joined at Kankakee by two more cars occupied by Mr. Small and his family. Tonight Kankakee county is sending a solid official trainload of homebodies who are to form the chief feature of tomorrow's inaugural.

Confer on Program.

Late tonight Mr. Small, Fred Lund, Col. Frank L. Smith, and Mayor Thompson were in conference on the program that will be established tomorrow when Mr. Small makes his inaugural address. The legislative program for the week includes only a session for the house. The senate is to meet Tuesday to consider any appointments that may be made by Gov. Small. Speaker Dahlberg said that no committee chairmanships will be announced before Jan. 17. No agreement has been reached as to any senate chairmanships.

REUBEN, FATHER OF 34, IS ENVIED BY A CONTINENT

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 9.—Since wide publicity was given to the fact that Reuben Eland of Robertsonville, Beaufort county, was the father of thirty-four children, he and Mrs. Eland have been deluged with letters from persons all over the United States and Canada. The letters are from both women and men. A man in Ohio wrote:

"I read the story about your large family aloud to my wife. 'There's a man who ought to be given a medal,' I told her. 'There's a man who ought to be honored,' she retorted."

AGED WOMAN DROPS DEAD.

Mrs. Ma Plankuch, 60 years old, dropped dead yesterday in her home at 3831 Lake street, apparently of heart disease.

SPECIALS CARRY CHICAGO'S CROWD TO INAUGURATION

Many Women Make Trip to Springfield.

Several hundred Chicagoans left at midnight to attend the state inaugural at Springfield today. Special trains carried delegations of men and women representing the Hamilton club, Rotary club, Illinois Women's club, Woman's City club, National Women's Association of Commerce, and other organizations.

Groups of city hall leaders, including Mayor Thompson, left Saturday night. The Hamilton club, with the largest single delegation, left on a special train on the Alton. A reception at the club preceded the departure. The twenty women in the party were entertained by a committee headed by Mrs. Wirt Humphrey, assisted by Mrs. Robert W. Dunn and Mrs. George W. Dixon.

Cadets Escort Delegation. Seventy-five cadets from Morgan Park Military academy, under command of Col. H. D. Abeles, Maj. W. E. Dewey, and Maj. F. L. Wilde, formed the escort in the march to the Union station. The club quartet and members of the Hamilton club chorus sang campaign and Hamilton songs en route. Hal M. Lytle, chairman of the inaugural committee, had charge of arrangements.

The party will be the breakfast guests of the Sangamo club of Springfield at the Leland hotel immediately upon its arrival at 7 o'clock this morning. After marching in the parade carrying the pictures of Harding and Coolidge presented to it by the Republican national committee, the club will attend the inaugural ceremonies. At their close there will be an inaugural jubilee and love feast in which members of the Sangamo and Hamilton clubs will join.

New Officials to Speak.

The newly installed state officials, all of whom are Hamiltonians, are expected to make brief addresses, as will President Robert W. Dunn and former President Henry R. Rathbone. In the evening the reception at the governor's mansion will be attended. This is to be followed by a dinner-dance at the Leland, continuing until the departure of the club's special train at 8:30 a. m.

Officers of the Second regiment, Illinois national guard, also had a special car on the Alton special.

The Chicago Motor Club was headed by President Charles M. Hayes. Many members were accompanied by their wives. The club planned to put in a word for the good roads program.

Capit. Nelson Morris had thirty in his party. The Rotary club delegation of fifteen members kept things moving in typical Rotary fashion.

Eighteen cars stolen in day.

Eighteen automobiles were reported stolen during the twenty-four hours ending yesterday.

MANUFACTURERS PLAN TO FIGHT UNION DEMANDS

Plans to combat any attempt by railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through national boards of adjustment will be made at a national conference of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday. It was announced last night in a statement issued by representatives of the conference. More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend the conference.

Future Papas Will Learn to Toss a Mean Skillet

State College, Pa., Jan. 9.—Men students at Pennsylvania state college are going to learn how to cook. The home economics department announced tonight that, beginning with the second semester, Feb. 1, a course to be known as "domestic science 53—cooking for men," will be inaugurated and will include a study of the nutritive value, selection, and preparation of simple foods, "with special emphasis upon those suitable for camping."

The advantages of our charge account is extended to new customers who may wish to enjoy its convenience, as well as to our regular patrons.

CONGRESS TO BE ASKED TO REDUCE NAVAL ESTIMATE

Rep. Kelly Proposes Cut of 40 Per Cent.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Representative Kelley of Michigan, chairman of the house naval subcommittee on appropriations, having just returned from Marion, O., where he conferred with President Eliot Harding, will propose to the committee a 40 per cent cut in the naval estimate for ship construction.

Representative Kelley said he was giving his own views and made no attempt to reflect the opinions of the president elect, but declared he thought the policy should be to gradually complete the naval building program of 1916, but with a view to proportionate disarmament of the nation.

Should Be "Normal Year."

"The coming year in my opinion," he said, "should be a normal, healthy, naval building year. The navy is asking for $184,000,000 for new ships alone—something more than thirty, including six battle cruisers, ten battleships, and ten scout cruisers. As this work goes forward now the navy is spending about $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 a month. This rate, I believe, is rapid enough to carry on the necessary construction, and about $100,000,000 ought to be enough to carry out the building program."

"I told Senator Harding that in any discussion of the reduction of armament I could not see how we could avoid building these ships, for it would cost as much now to discontinue building as it would to finish the job."

Reduce "Off the Bottom."

Representative Kelley said proportionate armament reduction "should be made off the bottom."

"We should abandon the old ships and old guns," he said, "in any disarmament scheme. Every nation will keep its new weapons."

Disarmament will be discussed in both branches of congress this week. Secretary Daniels plans to go before the house naval committee Tuesday. In the senate the foreign relations committee will resume consideration of the Borah and Walsh resolutions for naval disarmament.

Senator Sherman of Illinois expressed himself today in favor of disarmament provided the United States does not go it alone.

OLD TARIFF BAR TO PREVENT U.S. BECOMING DUMP

Payne-Aldrich Law May Serve in Emergency.

BY GRAFTON S. WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—To prevent the United States from becoming a dumping ground for foreign goods before a new tariff bill can be perfected, a move is developing in congress for re-enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law as soon as possible after March 4.

The plan is to use the Payne-Aldrich law as a temporary dike against the flood of foreign goods that Europe is preparing to rush into American markets now unprotected. Those who foster the movement propose that the old law should be re-enacted only as an emergency barrier, to remain effective until the Fordney-Penrose tariff can be made law, probably late in the summer.

Representative Watson of Pennsylvania is one of the supporters of this plan, and he has been gaining converts to the idea rapidly.

Protection for Chemicals.

Consideration of the new tariff thus far finds Republican members of the house ways and means committee in complete accord in favoring ample protection for chemical industries which gained a foothold in the United States during the war. In the first three days of the hearings last week only schedule A of the tariff law, relating to chemicals, oils, and paints, was discussed. In the hearings on the chemical schedule a change in the basis of valuation in calculating ad valorem rates of duty was urged. Henry Howard, chairman of the executive committee of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association of the United States; Nathan M. Clark, representing the Pyroloxin Manufacturers' association, and also a number of others, proposed that the domestic value rather than the foreign value be taken as the basis of any rates that are in any way regulated by the value of the imported article.

Fordney Favors Change.

Representative Fordney, chairman of the committee, and other Republicans on the committee showed a decided sympathy with this reversal of the policy which has been in effect for more than a century.

The use of specific rates of duty wherever possible, instead of ad valorem rates, also was urged.

Ensign Harold Holcomb, whom she left waiting at the church.

PARENTS of Robert S. Smith Jr. of Hammond, Ind., said yesterday that they had received news from their son, who eloped several days ago with Miss Celeste Lamb of Clinton, Ia., that the couple were married in Fort Madison, Ia., and intended to spend their honeymoon in Chicago. Their friends in Chicago were unable yesterday to find any trace of the honeymooners. Mrs. Smith eloped with her new husband on the day she was to have married Ensign Harold Holcomb of Pasadena, Cal. She had delayed marrying him on two other dates, previously set.

Cawthorn Entertains Wounded Heroes at Show

Echoes of the Good Fellow campaign to bring joy into the lives of wounded heroes in Chicago hospitals were heard Saturday afternoon at the matinee of "The Half Moon." Joseph Cawthorn entertained a group of seventy-five of his friends from the Marine hospital with their attendant nurses who saw service over seas.

LEAGUE ISSUES STATEMENT ON THE WORK DONE

Tells of the Result of First Year.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The secretariat of the league of nations today issued an official document entitled "The Work Accomplished by the League of Nations During the First Year of Its Existence, Jan. 10, 1920, to Jan. 10, 1921," enumerating the various questions settled or discussed by the league.

It mentions, first, the establishment of a permanent international court of justice; second, the work accomplished in the limitation of armaments, and third, the creation of an international commission to study use of the blockade as an economic weapon. The three foregoing are mentioned as measures "designed to prevent war."

Efforts at Conciliation.

Under a heading "Efforts at Political Conciliation" the document refers to the question of the Aland Islands, upon which the league commission will report within three weeks. As measures destined to remedy the economic crisis, the report says, the creation of an economic and financial organization in accordance with the conclusions of the Brussels financial conference and the organization of a transit commission were foremost in the league's work. Concerning humanitarian measures, the report goes on, the league elaborated a series of projects including an appeal for funds to fight typhus, the acceptance of responsibilities for opium traffic control and also the white slave traffic; caused the United States, Brazil, and Spain to accept mediation in Armenia and effected the repatriation of more than 100,000 war prisoners.

Execution of Treaty.

Regarding execution of the peace treaty, the league points out the following missions accomplished:

1. Administration of the Saar Valley.
2. Direction of the affairs of the city of Danzig.
3. Rejection of the German government's conclusions and note asking another plebiscite in Eupen and Malmedy and the final awarding of the territories to Belgium.

4. The establishment of a permanent mandate commission to administer the affairs of former German colonies.
5. Acceptance of responsibility for the protection of minorities.
6. Registration of sixty-nine treaties in accordance with the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles.

NEW PRESIDENT TO END CHAOS IN U. S. DIPLOMACY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The diplomatic service will be reorganized and brought up to a high state of efficiency by President Harding, according to those who have conferred with him. There has been more demand for improvement in this service and the consular branch from business men than for any one thing, because they find themselves handicapped in doing business with foreign countries.

As a part of the new policy certain American ministers who have risen from the ranks will not follow the custom of handing in their resignations.

OUR MARY GARDEN JEALOUS OF ANY DIVA'S CLOTHES?

Dorothy Jardon Says That Is Why She Quit Here.

Too ill to fight back, Mary Garden, Chicago's own opera star, who has been mentioned frequently for the position of artistic director of the Chicago Opera company, was made the target of another attack last night.

Dorothy Jardon, an American soprano in the opera company two years ago, is the latest member of the "savage chorus." She gave out an interview.

MARY GARDEN, New York, in which she declared the jealousy of Mary Garden forced her to quit the Chicago company. She insisted Miss Garden was not only jealous of the roles assigned to Miss Jardon, but even of Miss Jardon's clothes.

Friends of Mrs. Ganna Walska, the Polish star and wife of Alexander

Smith Cochran, millionaire, who quit Chicago suddenly just as she was about to appear in the title role of "Zaza," have insisted Mary Garden's "jealousies" were to blame for her nonappearance.

When Gino Marinuzzi resigned suddenly last Thursday night as artistic director, opera gossiping tongues worked rapidly, and the "outlanders" were particularly vigorous in their mutterings about Mary Garden and her influence in the affairs of the company.

Miss Garden is suffering from laryngitis at her apartment in the Blackstone. Her doctor and friends have kept her from entering the fray.

But Herbert M. Johnson, manager of the Opera association, took up the cudgels in her behalf. He deplored the "sins" on one who is not minded to defend herself.

"The charges of Dorothy Jardon are ridiculous," Mr. Johnson said.

Now here is Miss Jardon's volley: "I had a five year contract with the Chicago Opera company, and I cancelled the three remaining years this season because when Campanini, the director, died in Chicago last year, when I was a member of the company, I treasured my future with that organization was dead also," she said.

"I've got no angel or multimillionaire husband to buy my costumes and back my future, but I do think it only fair that opera goes who know my ability should remain steadfast in the friendship they gave me on my debut and since, I am engaged for vaudeville.

"All this turmoil in the Chicago Opera company is founded on nothing but envy and spite working."

I had that one experience with Mary Garden. I was in the company with her, and I'm glad that it's all over. I don't know much about the lady or what her traditions are. But I'm from New York City.

GREEK WEDDING

Daughter of Chicago Attorney
Becomes Bride of Iowa Merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Counts.

Amid the shewing of the censers, the intoning of the rituals of the Greek Orthodox Catholic church, and the ministrations of the gorgeously garbed priests, Miss Helen Pantelis, daughter of Attorney Athanasius A. Pantelis of 1642 Fargo avenue, became the bride of J. A. Counts, Greek merchant of Centerville, Ia., last night at the Auditorium hotel.

More than two hundred prominent Greeks of Chicago saw the marriage ceremony and attended the wedding supper.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alex Papastephano, deacon, and C. H. Demetri, assisted by Christ and Mrs. Paul Kilkeas the bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Counts will reside in Centerville.

MADISON POLICE REFUSE TO DROP 'GRANDEE'S' CASE

No matter what Highland Park authorities decide to do or whether reconciliations are effected between Pierre Paul Franzen, the love bandit, and his wife and that of his "soulmate," Mrs. Philip M. Franzen, and her wronged husband, the state of Wisconsin will demand that the alleged Spanish grandee be brought to trial at Madison, Wis., on a charge of larceny.

This was announced yesterday by Chief of Police Thomas Shaugnessy of Madison. The larceny charge was made against Franzen by Franzen, who asserted that the former had taken $110 at the point of a revolver at the time he forced Franzen to sign away his rights to Mrs. Franzen and the two eloped.

All Parties Reconciled.

Following the return of the lovers to Chicago Saturday, Franzen and Mrs. Franzen decided to forgive their wayward spouses and reconciliations were effected, even the wives shook hands and agreeing to let bygones be bygones.

Franzen hastened to notify the Wisconsin authorities that he had sworn out for Franzen.

Chief Shaugnessy, however, refuses to drop the charge and notified the Chicago police that he had mailed the warrant for Franzen's arrest to them.

Highland Park Warrant Still Out.

Highland Park police assert the warrant that Mrs. Franzen swore out charging her husband with wife-abandonment had not been withdrawn last night.

Federal officials admitted they were looking into the case to determine whether the government has grounds for action under the Mann act.

KENOSHA PRIEST HOLDS SERVICE; REBELS QUIET

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—True to their agreement, the 400 members of the Holy Rosary church here who have been threatened with excommunication by Archbishop Sebastian, G. Messmer if they continue to stir up an agitation to oust the Rev. Peter Perard as priest of the parish, refrained from putting into effect their program of staging a protest parade at the regular high mass service of the church here today.

The Rev. Perard pontificated at the regular services of the church and his address made only veiled allusions to the agitation. It was admitted that many members of the parish did not attend the services and that many went only out of curiosity.

VICTIM OF OLD PIRATE LAW IS NEARER FREEDOM

Joseph A. Kerwin, convicted sixteen years ago of piracy on the high seas and sentenced to life in the federal prison, is one more step nearer freedom. Officials of the Detroit and Cleveland Steamship company have agreed to a parole for him if it can be obtained.

Kerwin was sentenced to life imprisonment for the theft of a woman's purse on one of the company's ships. The law has since been modified, and now the maximum is fifteen years, one year less than Kerwin already has served. He is still in prison under the old law.

R. T. Miller Jr., president of the American School of Correspondence, is waging the fight to have the government free Kerwin.

MR. HARDING'S MILITARY POLICY.

The senate committee on military affairs will recommend a resolution directing the secretary of war to suspend enlistments until the regular army has been reduced to 175,000 men. Congressmen Kahn of the house committee on military affairs, after talking with Mr. Harding in Marion, said that the new president's policy would be to reduce the army to 150,000 men.

Mr. Kahn said that Mr. Harding believes that the country must have "a military establishment of great potential strength." This can be the basis of a sound military policy if Mr. Harding will advocate it earnestly, and if congress will follow his recommendations.

A correct military policy does not require the maintenance of a large force of professional soldiers. It requires the availability of an adequate force of trained men to be relied upon in emergency.

There must be available the mechanical appliances of war which cannot be provided in emergency. They must be on hand. Ordnance cannot be improvised. Neither can an air service. The men of the expert, specialized, technical classes cannot be provided in a hurry. Neither can good officers and noncommissioned officers.

To provide and maintain technical equipment with men trained for its operation does not require the maintenance of a large army in peace time, but such equipment and such expert service is a part of the necessary skeleton of an adequate army.

A military establishment of great potential strength, as Mr. Harding describes the American need, requires a reserve in civilian life which is available and trained to serve when needed. The reserve could be obtained by universal military training, which probably will not be undertaken. That is the most dependable and most effective, but not the only fashion.

Reserves can be accumulated out of ordinary service in the regular army. This can be done by enlistments which give one period in active service and another in reserve. If 150,000 men passed through the regular army every year and into reserve, the United States might have at least a half million men, of service age and fitness, obtainable from this one source.

It is the method the Germans used to circumvent Napoleon's restriction of the Prussian army. With short enlistments and intensive training, the German army to overthrow Napoleon was acquired in spite of his prohibition of German military development.

There are other sources of reserves. The citizenship which is willing to take the national guard training is another source. The high school and college training is another source. It ought to be possible to coordinate all the methods of training so that a really generous supply of men accustomed to arms would be available in the United States.

It is not difficult for the United States to maintain the military establishment it may require. We know the temper of the country is against a great regular army, and fortunately military policy does not require one. It is fortunate for such a country as the United States that if everything else is available the infantry arm, if it has a good skeleton force, can be improvised. The country objects to the maintenance in peace of the infantry which would be needed in war. We do not believe that it objects to the upkeep of the technical branches and the expert service, or to the development of a civilian reserve.

It is unfortunate that congressmen persist in regarding the A. E. F. as a reserve. It is true that the country has more trained men now than it ever before had in peace time, and many of them would feel an obligation to come forward again in time of need, but it must be remembered that such as do will not come forward as privates but as officers. And rightly too. They have had experience and if they go into another war they are going to have promotion upon their experience. There ought to be no obligation on them to go back into the ranks. What a lax and unjust notion it would be that expected a particular class of its citizenship to fight another war merely because it had had the bitter experience of fighting a previous one, although they had come up since their experience other groups of millions of young men of military fitness.

We must think we conferred a favor on the men who fought in France and that they owe their country more than the mere civilian owes it. Their country owes them, among other debts, the debt of protecting itself better than it was protected when they were needed. This protection can be given by a small regular army, a potentially great military establishment, and adequate equipment, with the necessary technical experts in chemical, air, and artillery warfare.

WHY LIFE IS UNSAFE IN CHICAGO.

"I'm afraid this Eddie Morris is waiting outside the house to hold up my husband when he comes home. He knows my husband carries collections as high as $5,000. You'd better send some one quick."

This was the appeal Mrs. Welch says she sent to the Englewood station, and this is what she says she got in reply:

"O. well, you'd better call up the Crossing station and tell them about it," and the receiver was hanging up.

Eddie Morris was wanted on suspicion of killing or being implicated in the killing of a brother officer of the man, whoever he was, who lazily shunted a woman's appeal for help to another station. Morris is a notorious gunman and his capture was a duty of the police. But the officer in the station at Englewood was not interested. Or perhaps he was interested in the wrong way. In any case, he is a rotten spot in the police force of this city, and he should be detected and thrown out. He is not only an unfit officer. He is an unfit citizen.

We suspect also that there are more like him in Englewood, where, we understand, the conditions are pretty bad. We hope Chief Fitzmorris will give this district early attention.

The man on the Englewood station telephone is typical of too much of our law enforcement. He explains why the city and its environs have dragged back into a state resembling the dark ages.

OUR NEGLECTED VETERANS.

Dr. Salmon of the Rockefeller Foundation says that no part of the money appropriated for war veterans suffering from disability has been devoted to provision for those whose disability is in the form of mental and nervous disorders. As a result these men are committed to institutions for criminal insane, drug addicts, and degenerates.

Also, men committed to private institutions for want of government accommodations are never visited by government officials to see if they are being cared for properly.

This is another phase of the disabled veteran situation which is a disgrace to the administration and to the country. Our soldiers were told they would be our first care. That was common justice. But our promise was better than our performance. It is time to make good. The mis-handling of the veterans is to a great extent bad management and a bad plan, and this will be corrected in some measure, perhaps entirely, if the bill to consolidate the various agencies dealing with service men is passed and efficiently administered. But we have had experience enough to know that eternal vigilance is the price of efficiency and that vigilance must be the special duty of the American Legion.

This in turn raises the question of influence. Merely to keep track of legislation and administration for soldiers and the public exposure of wrong conditions will do much and is doing much. But it is yet to be demonstrated that the resolution of the Legion to keep out of politics, commendable as it is in theory, may not have to be modified. It is true that congress is too often bullied by organizations of special interest and we think there is nothing in our recent history more sinister than the growth of the terrorist inclination of minorities. But if congress takes advantage of the patriotic restraint and high-mindedness of the Legion to shirk duties which are clearly fixed by the broadest consideration of national welfare and the most elementary principles of public justice, then the Legion will have to take effective measures to get the soldier's rights respected, if necessary by organized opposition at the polls to men indifferent to the soldier's legitimate claims.

WE NEED NATIONAL ISLES OF SAFETY.

Harry Boland, secretary to Eamonn de Valera of the Irish republic, remained here after De Valera returned to Ireland. Last week in Madison Square Garden, in addressing a meeting, he said, as quoted: "If I had my way I would tell the Irish in America to rise up and tear down everything British."

Mr. Boland is said to have entered the country without inspection and without a passport, and the state department in Washington has begun an investigation to determine his status, with a view to returning him to Ireland.

Mr. Boland merely proceeded upon a general assumption. This country is the natural fighting ground for European controversy. The modern and practical European theory is that fighting should be done on the land of somebody else. We Americans are the only ones who believe in fighting in defense of our land on our own soil, so that no matter what happens American towns and countryside will be thoroughly blown up.

Europe does not believe in fighting in its own parlor, and so why not ours? If the Irish rise up in the United States and tear down everything English, the English may rise up and try to tear down everything Irish. The Jews-Slaves would be perfectly justified in rising up and tearing down everything Italian and the Italians in proceeding to exterminate everything Serbian, Croatian, and Slovene. The Germans might destroy everything Polish to get even for the Danzig corridor and the Poles take it out on the Russians.

This is a great little country and probably it will be all right just so long as the Chinese do not rise up and tear down everything Japanese. This will be going too far. The Japanese might not like it. It would not matter, of course, whether we did or not. We are here at our own peril. Or could we have some neutral strips of territory in the United States of America? Some isles of safety?

Editorial of the Day

WHERE WILL OUR ARISTOCRACY COME FROM?

You can visit in America a city of a hundred thousand inhabitants and find there better shops, better goods, more artistic stuffs, more attractive furniture, and, in unexpected spots, a more vivid culture than in any English town. Wealth leads to aristocracy; out of wealth America will breed hers. The poor aristocrat is a popular illusion. Indeed, an aristocrat may be poor, but he must be the son or the grandson of an aristocrat who was rich. Without wealth aristocracy cannot survive; without wealth it cannot be born. Wealth does not necessarily create aristocracy, but it can do so. I feel that the aristocracy of America will not be maintained out of the elegances of Boston or the languors of South Carolina, but is being born, born of the rugged, fierce stock of the middle west. After all, the early aristocrats, the Normans and the crusaders, too, were kid-gloved neither in their morals nor their manners.

The reader will realize from the foregoing that I have not joined the faintly envious clamor against the middle west. The middle west, by the fact of its novelty, shows its "seamy side"; the dust of ages, which has filled the seams of Paris and London town, has not had time to make for the west a glossy surface. And so the east, with 300 years behind it, is more acutely conscious of Chicago than the foreigner can be. Certainly, from the eastern point of view, Chicago is a bank that might call difficult. I can understand that a banking family in Manhattan, harking back to the days of the Dutch, because it is sure of its own position, looks at Chicago with a certain amount of contempt.

Chicago is the man at arms of modern industry; that has to be remembered when you criticize it at work or at leisure. It has a passion for fact; a passion for realities malleable as cement before they are applied to industry, hard as cement in the end. Chicago is provided with Boston, because it is sure of itself. It has built its castle upon the future—Chicago a secure foundation. That is why there is no peace in Chicago, and why, if ever Chicago attains peace, it will be the nefarious peace of a termination.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

TO TONY NARG.
Tony, dear, deary of blocks and strings,
Whose hand draws back the curtain of the years
Through cloud and mist of memory appears
A happy vision of departed things.

Your tiny actors with their gesturings,
Their puppet passions and their mimic fears,
Rip and his wife, his dog, his daughter's tears—
Oh what a vanished joy the whole play brings!

While little people in your audience
Shout out in pleasure at Nick Vedder's fun
Or watch grey Hudson's sprites, with features tense,
We elders gaze along a vista whence
From our young past there smiles on everyone
The kind old features of Joe Jefferson!

WE see by an account of a lecture in the East that Major Putnam has been "bought with British gold" again. Which reminds us that our remittance is three weeks overdue.

WILLIE THE TOWN DEMON.
[From the Bushnell News.]
There was quite an excitement last night at 12 o'clock when the "mameluke dogs" of the town started to ring the church and school bells. William Silberer was seen firing his cap gun.

WE have just wired a request to Mr. Jimmie Whittaker, at Cochrane, Ont., to bring home with him a pair of those "mameluke dogs," as we think of starting a newspaper zoo.

Adventure of a Master Mind.
Sir: In response to an urgent request, I recently went to Marion. As I reached the w. k. porch I was somewhat embarrassed by the sight of all those other master minds and for a time in silence I leaned heavily against a column—you know how well I do that. Soon, however, I was inspired. I stepped boldly forward and threw Ethel Root off. Then I pushed Hughes's blooming lilacs into the frost blighted ones in the yard. I continued in this course until the lawn was a withering mass of superfluous floralities. Finally the president-elect noticed it.

"Whatever are you a doing of, Stone Phil?" he inquired.
Just dusting the attic salt off of the front porch," I responded. You know, it was the way I said it.

OPERA goes hard with a double disappointment last Friday night. Mary Garden did not appear, and Cararra failed to sing, between the acts, he w. k. Applause-getter. "Cararra, boom-de-ay."

CLASSICAL WHO'S WHO.
A versatile poet was Quintus H. Placius. An excellent man, though acquainted with Bacchus. He lived in a villa just off the main street. And as "Horace" was known to the Roman elite.

MR. MELLON of Pittsburgh is boosted for a cabinet position. His friends say he is ripe enough to be kicked.

TO M. B.
I think that when thou wert first born and camest into the world, thou wast a sheer And Heavenly youth about thee, Dear. That few loved spirits have. Thy very name Spells loveliness and like a quiet flame A slender vase, thy lips have been Sweet as a little child's, asks nothing of The one whose way it lights. The world's loud

Is but a breath and gold a wasting dream Consumed as candle in a soul like thine: It is like thee that 'neath thy heavy crown Thou hast found peace to ease the hurt of mine. The poet looked up and said: "Mary had been told for friend such a good friend of God's. G. V. B."

GALESBURG'S Hotel Custer has sprung a new one on the gadders. But reports that, instead of the conventional "Clerk on Duty, Mr. Rae," the card reads: "Greeter, Rudie Hawk."

WHO is so chatty as the chatty tailor? Writes an Omaha member of the profession: "Should you not be in line for duds, you will kindly convey the correct impression of the downward trend. Prosperous N. Y. to you."

Problem of Conduct.
Sir: I had dinner with John and Mary the other evening. John and Mary are nearly brother and sister, being double first cousins. Mary had been down town, indulging in the present-day, middle-class method of shopping: that is to say, she looked at the price marks on the articles she wanted, looked at the money she had, and came home. John does not love her any the less because of this method of shopping, but he deprecates the necessity; so after dinner he tried to express his sympathy by reading the ads.

"Here are excellent women's coats at the Boston Store for $19.95," says he. "I won't go there," says Mary. I simply couldn't ask a salesgirl to show me a coat for $19.95. John smiled and turned to Rothschild's ad. "What are you looking through the ads for?" asked Mary. "Underwear for men that can be relied on," John looked up and said: "Mary, it is a dear cousin, but his mind is—well, masculine. 'Clever, wasn't it?' he asked me when Mary left the room. Of course it was a joke and all that, but it was the way she said it and did I really think she meant it? I refused to answer, because my answer might incriminate myself, but told him I would write and ask you to help him, for all the time he has been looking at the ads. I have read learned books about affairs feminine and feminist. Now, please, won't you teach this perplexed male how to determine whether Mary is the girl for him or not. I have written you a long letter, but I have not time to write you now. I will write you again soon. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, ELIZABETH."

THE effort of W. S. to explain things, which has got him in deeper. Among gadders, reminds one of 'em, it is known that hotel maids do not report for their regular duties until 7:30 a. m.

REFINED CRUELTY.
Sir: A sign in Atlanta coarsely announces: "Lynch the nigger who stole your watch." I am sure, if the poor fellow were bumped off, would it not be more refined to send him to the Orotorio Barber Shop in Chicago?

OR he might be sentenced to six months in the barber shop of Peter Vell in Palo Alto.

"We trust," another communication concludes, "your further consideration of the supporting references will thoroughly cover and satisfy your strenuous anticipation."

SONG.
Counting am I the days now
When I shall hear again
Robins on many a bough,
Singing to weary men.

Hearing, the dark bough shall bud;
Hearing, shall I rejoice,
Feeling my fountains of blood
Leap to their cheery voice.

Counting am I the nights long,
Dreaming dreams of mine own,
Twining and crooning a song
For the first crocus blue.

THE IRONY OF IRON TONICS.

THERE are many kinds of anemia, some of which, quoting a famous medical teacher of fifty years ago, "tend to get well, others tend to die, whilst still others go on to the chronic form of the disorder." There is only one medicine taking habit which is more widespread than the take-a-little-iron habit and that is the laxative pill habit. "I am a little iron" or "I am a little laxative" or "I am a little bad." I expect I need a little iron." These are commonly heard statements.

It took a lot of campaigning to get rid of the stomach-iron-taking custom. At that I am inclined to think the exposure of the large amount of alcohol contained in the old time stomach tonics was the largest factor in the reform. How much agitation will be required to overcome the custom of taking iron tonics?

When a person is anemic the first question which should be asked is: What is the cause of the anemia? Is it due to too much indoors, the proper remedy is more sunlight. More skating, rowing, swimming, walking, would do away with it. Then I pushed Hughes's blooming lilacs into the frost blighted ones in the yard. I continued in this course until the lawn was a withering mass of superfluous floralities. Finally the president-elect noticed it.

"Whatever are you a doing of, Stone Phil?" he inquired.
Just dusting the attic salt off of the front porch," I responded. You know, it was the way I said it.

YES, THERE IS DANGER.
Mrs. A. H. T. writes: "My husband's mother has tuberculosis. Her mother and father died of it. Is this always hereditary? My husband is not very strong, but seems to have good lungs, a chest expansion of about 5 inches. He has had about four attacks of pneumonia. 1. Do you think there is any danger of his having tuberculosis, or is it apt to develop later? He is 23 years old. 2. Should one be very careful in using towels, dishes, etc. of the mother? 3. If my husband is susceptible, would exercising and good care of his health prevent it? I am in very good health. 4. Would there be any danger of my getting it?"

REPLY.
1. Yes. He will not be out of the shadow for several years yet. He must be in the open air as much as possible. Keep up his health. He must not become overtired.

2. Yes. See that all towels and dishes are sterilized after the mother has used them.

3. Probably so.

"Elite," a New Wash Ribbon

THE second week of our Annual Sale of Wash Ribbons introduces "Elite," a new two-tone pattern. The first shipment of this novel lingerie Ribbon brings four different combinations from which to choose: pink with blue, lavender with blue, lavender with maize, and maize with tea-rose.

The prices are extraordinarily low: a 10-yd. bolt, No. 1 width is 95c. Other widths from $1.10.

Ribbons, First Floor, North, State.

Annual January Sale Longcloth and Nainsook

NEVER have we offered such radical reductions on these fine quality materials as here presented. For range of qualities, weights and finishes, we believe that our stocks can in no way be equalled.

Below are mentioned two of the remarkable values.
36-in. Chamois Finish English Longcloth, 10 yd. bolt, $3.25.
40-inch Field's French Finish Nainsook, 10 yds. box, $3.75.

Second Floor, Middle, State.

Printed Voiles

ATTRACTIVELY PRICED, 7d., 65c. NOT for several seasons have we been able to offer printed Voiles of this quality at such a low price. The designs are very attractive, in many desirable colors, among them the lighter colors with small figured designs.

It would be well to buy for future use and effect a worthwhile savings while merchandise is fresh and the assortment complete.

Second Floor, Middle, State.

January Sale of Embroideries

SOME of the daintiest and most unusual Embroideries made for collars are on sale at one price. In the collection are organdie, crepe, Georgette, and batiste grounds of white or ecru, embroidered with colors. The patterns are straight, separated, large and small scallops, and edgings of Venice and filet lace effects. Very exceptional, 95c.

Ruffled Edges, 45c

There are Ruffled Edges, in baby designs combined with insertion, in widths from 1 1/2 to 4 inches. Also 12-inch Embroideries in English eyelet and clover designs, and some blind work on Swiss, nainsook, and Cambric materials, all exceptional values.

Embroideries, First Floor, South, State.

New Wool Fabrics for Spring Apparel

THE new Wool Materials have a decided atmosphere of Spring in their soft colorings and smart plaids and stripes. Grays and shades of brown are called for in particular since they are so good this season for suits and dresses and for combining with figured cloth.

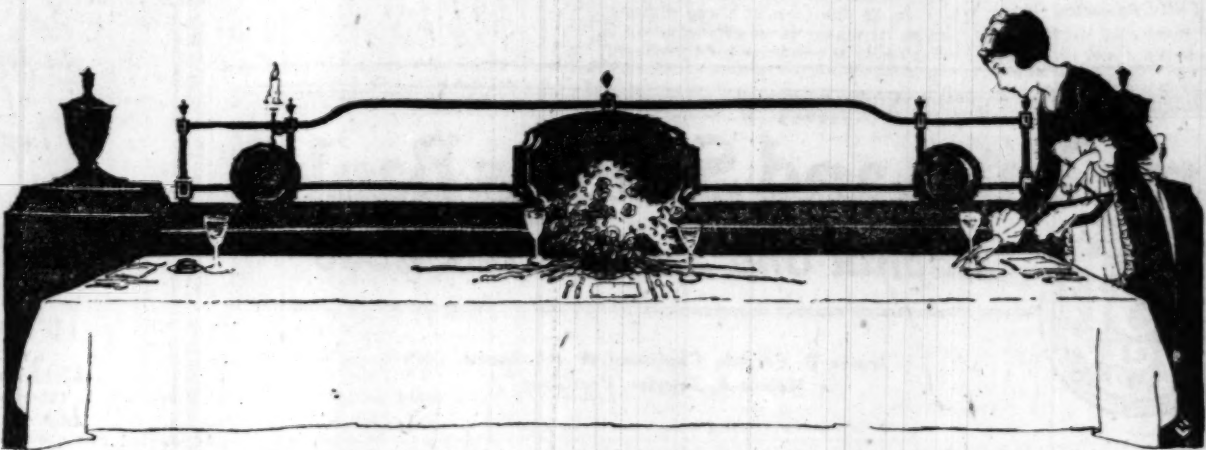

Gabardine Twill, Jersey Cloth, Venetian Twill, Tricotine, and Velours effects are the qualities most prevalent. The plaids and stripes are scientifically spaced so as to lend themselves perfectly to plaiting. Many beautiful combinations of black and white, with the white predominating, are for southern wear.

Wool Dress Goods, Second Floor, South, State.

Advantages in Our January Sales

THE POPULARITY of our January Sales was never better revealed than in the hearty response of the public to the offerings now being made. People are recognizing the significance of the prices given on these pages, and are responding accordingly.

The full tide of the Sales is now on, and patrons may find on every hand complete and fresh Field Quality stocks upon which to draw with rare advantage to themselves.

An Exhibition of Complete Kitchens

THE workroom of the home requires for its economical operation the best of equipment. Not every home demands every little refinement in kitchen tools—all depends on the size of the family, the amount of entertaining done, and individual tastes.

To show graphically the needs of average kitchens, what they include and how much they cost, we have assembled eight groups of kitchen equipment, varying from the very simple things needed by two people up to the array provided for a family of eight. Prices of outfits range from $113.25 to $983.

These are on exhibition all this week in the Exhibition Aisle of Household Utilities.

RAILWAY LABOR BARES "PLOT TO SMASH UNIONS"

I. C. C. Asked to Investigate Repair Situation.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Charges that the big railroad companies have joined a widespread "open shop" movement to disrupt trade unionism, and are this year "milking" the government treasury of $750,000,000 through car repair manipulation, are made in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission for the International Association of Machinists.

The petition, submitted by W. Jett Lauck, on behalf of William H. Johnston, president of the machinists' organization, asks the commission primarily to prohibit railroad companies from assigning repair work to outside companies, which charge exorbitant rates without specific permission from the commission, and pleads for an immediate inquiry into charges that the roads are closing their repair shops, throwing thousands of workers out of employment, in order to throw locomotive and repair work to private equipment companies, in which railroad capitalists or banking groups are heavily interested.

More than 30,000 workers, it is set forth already have been forced into idleness through this plan of the roads, and can return to the shops only upon surrendering their union cards.

By this scheme, the petition charges, the managements hope to send the unions on the rocks, charging the bill for the accomplishment to the public through taxation to pay subsidies guaranteed by the federal government or by maintaining high rates to shippers and the traveling public.

The petition further sets forth that this drive on railroad shop workers is only one phase of a capitalistic "open shop" movement developing throughout the country, which has for "its great object" disruption of "all legitimate labor organizations and trade union agreements."

Some of Labor's Charges.
Evidence of the scope of this movement is compiled in the petition as follows:

Wreck of the Intergovernmental World movement, because it dared to advocate collective bargaining in the United States Steel corporation.

Revelations before the Lockwood committee in New York, to the effect that the United States and Bethlehem Steel corporations refused to furnish fabricated steel to construction companies in New York city employing members of labor unions.

Recent refusal of anthracite coal companies, controlled by Morgan & Co., to grant complete union recognition to mine workers.

PUBLIC BEGGED TO CALL OFF ITS BUYING STRIKE

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Appeals to the public to stop the "buying strike" were made today by the National Association of Manufacturers and by the National Association of Credit Men.

"Without deprecating the necessity for thrift in making its purchases," said the statement, "the time has arrived for us to make clear to the public that reasonable stability in prices has been attained and for the general good the buying strike should be called off at once."

Although our potential buying power is not seriously impaired as yet, it will become progressively impaired as unemployment increases and this can result only in prolonging the time that will be required to get commerce back to normal."

Manufacturers should resume their buying of raw products in a discriminating way, is the suggestion.

LEGION DEMANDS AGENCIES AIDING MEN BE UNIFIED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—The present system of rehabilitating disabled war veterans is denounced by the American Legion as a "failure" which should be remedied by consolidating under a single head the three government agencies now engaged in that work.

This charge and the remedial suggestion will be presented by the Legion tomorrow to President Wilson, President-elect Harding, and to every member of both houses of congress, in a memorial directing attention to the "suffering, shameful neglect, and injustice" which the Legion asserts, mark the administration of the affairs of the war veterans.

Col. F. W. Galbraith Jr., national commander of the Legion, will deliver a copy of the memorial to Senator Harding at Marion.

Must Unify Agencies.
The Legion memorial asserts that the function of the three agencies—

the bureau of war risk insurance, the federal board for vocational education, and the United States public health service—"must be coordinated, their machinery decentralized, and all three placed under the common control."

"To do this," the memorial says, "there must be a new law which shall place the unified organization under a single administrative head."

For this new organization the Legion asks an appropriation sufficient to buy, build, equip, and enlarge hospitals sufficient to provide facilities for all the men now under hospital treatment. Bills providing for this have been introduced in both houses of congress at the behest of the Legion.

U. S. Liberal but Unbusinesslike.
The memorial says the United States has been more liberal than any other nation in its provisions for the disabled soldiers, but that it has failed in a large measure to make these provisions available. This is attributed to "an astonishing state of divided responsibility and wasted effort among the government agencies."

"In the rehabilitation of a disabled man there are three needs—medical treatment, vocational training, and financial support," the memorial proceeds. "The government has recognized the three needs, but overlooks the fact that they are the simultaneous needs of one man, not of three different men or of one man at three different times. It makes three problems out of what really is one three part problem."

SERVES NOTICE HIS REVOLVER'S READY TO SHOOT

"It's all right if you feel like bluffing them, but I take no chances," is the way Policeman Michael Carey of the traffic division expresses his views on capturing would-be holdup men. He serves notice he keeps his revolver always loaded.

Police man Carey Saturday night heard glass crash in the butcher shop of George Horath, 7136 South Ashland avenue. Investigating, he found two holdup men trying to rob Horath, who had thrown a cleaver at them. They had retailed with gunfire. It was reported the policeman subdued them with threats, backed up with his empty revolver.

"I sure had her loaded," he said, "and I meant what I said when I told them to drop their guns or I'd kill 'em."

First Trust and Savings Bank

Capital and Surplus $12,500,000

James B. Forgan, Chairman of the Board
Melvin A. Traylor, President

THE DEVELOPMENT of an increasingly large volume both in the number of Savings Depositors and in Savings Deposits is splendid indorsement of the principles and policies upon which the First Trust and Savings Bank is founded:

Safety—The stock of this bank is owned by the stockholders of the First National Bank of Chicago. Combined resources exceed $380,000,000, built up thru more than half a century of experience and progress. Safety is further evidenced by capital, surplus and undivided profits of more than forty million dollars, the stockholders' financial guarantee of the stability of these banks.

Convenience, both in location at the northwest corner of Dearborn and Monroe Streets, in the center of the loop, and in the arrangement of the bank's interior, affording easy access to officers and to the bookkeepers' and tellers' windows.

Does every man want?
more than one woman?

How much suffering and unhappiness has been caused by the idea existing among young men that they may conduct themselves AS THEY PLEASE.

As many sweethearts AS THEY CAN GET. Soothing their conscience with the old balm that the young man is EXPECTED to sow his wild oats.

But once this poison of self-indulgence gets into the blood, is it ever going to be wiped out? Will they be able to settle down and marry and cleave and stick to ONE WOMAN?

In some cases they may, but it is apt to be a difficult job. In most cases the poison once instilled will burn them, body and soul, down to the very socket.

Men and women should walk as gods, upward into the great unknown. With laughter around them. And lute notes, dancing and song. Sunlight, gold light and star light. Music sweeter than all the dreams of all the lovers of all the world. All your words will be impotent to show the great wrong done the world by the SELFISHNESS of man in his selfish DESIRES.

All your words impotent to tell—to show—as a branding iron upon the hearts of all mankind—that the BEST way in life is the way of ONE MAN FOR ONE WOMAN, as it is shown in that great drama, "WAY DOWN EAST," as translated in D. W. GRIFITH'S glorified version at the WOODS THEATRE.

Go to see "WAY DOWN EAST." It will do your soul good.

It is shown EVERY AFTERNOON and EVERY EVENING (including Sundays) at the WOODS THEATRE. You MUST see it. Buy your seats in advance.

FILMS TO SHOW FARM PROBLEMS TO ALL AMERICA

Farmers Move to Solve Marketing Puzzle.

The farmers are going into the movies. This is part of a nation-wide movement to help solve one of the greatest problems of the day, the farm marketing problem.

Announcement was made yesterday that a great educational movement, to embrace all the United States, reaching not only city dwellers but the rural crossroads, will be started this week. The Farmers' Film corporation, with offices at 919 Michigan boulevard, has been organized with William E. Skinner, secretary of the National Dairy association, as secretary.

The marketing problems will be brought directly to the people by means of films. The production of the nation's food will be filmed from the sowing of the seed to the consumption by the ultimate buyer. The films will not seek to draw conclusions, but will lay the facts before the public, and the latter will be asked "to take such steps as their good sense points out."

Boost Trade Expansion Fund.
Part of the plan will be propaganda to help the American Bankers' association raise the proposed billion dollar trade expansion fund, known as the Foreign Trade Financing corporation.

According to its prospectus, the new company has the cooperation of the United States department of agriculture, state agricultural departments and colleges, the American Farm Bureau federation, the Grange movement, and cooperative farming and marketing associations, as well as the National Dairy association.

The initial work has been undertaken by the Waukegan County corporation, a farm organization of Wisconsin, which has agreed to bear the preliminary expenses.

Harry E. Aitken, organizer of the Triangle Film corporation, who was responsible for "The Birth of a Nation," will be associated with the new company. Mr. Aitken and his brother, R. E. Aitken, own the Meadow Brook farm, near Waukegan.

Tells Aims of Promoters.
"This is exclusively an agricultural movement in behalf of the American farmer and consumer," Mr. Skinner said. "It will seek to reduce production costs, raise production values, and lower food costs."

"It will seek to eliminate the improper and useless 'in-betweeners.'"

Loads Rival's Banana Cart with Gas; Caught

Frank Calotto, 459 North Racine avenue, and Benjamin Barrenco, 2859 Lincoln avenue, are competitors in the banana business, each pushing a cart through the alleys north of Wilson avenue. Mr. Calotto, who lately upbraided Mr. Barrenco on a charge of filching trade from him, was discovered yesterday by Policeman Thomas Green eating a can of gasoline into Mr. Barrenco's cart. He ran. Green caught him. It was merely a joke, he said, but he'll have to tell it to the judge.

BAR WILL HONOR JUDGE DONNELLY AT WOODSTOCK TODAY

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 9.—Practically every member of the Lake County Bar association will journey to Woodstock today to pay homage to Judge Charles H. Donnelly, who is retiring from the bench after serving more than thirty years. Ill health prompted him to retire. It was his express wish to Gov. Lowden that Representative Edward H. Shurtleff, ex-speaker of the house, be appointed to succeed him. This course was taken. The lawyers also will pay their respects to Judge Shurtleff.

DRUGGISTS MAKE WISCONSIN TEST OF VOLSTEAD ACT

Madison, Wis., Jan. 9.—(Special)—Madison attorneys retained by an association of the largest wholesale druggists in the United States will, in a few days, act in the United States District court here to restrain T. E. Hazelberg, state prohibition commissioner for Wisconsin, in prosecuting individuals for sale of proprietary medicines containing alcohol in excess of the legal percentage without the permit required by the state prohibition enforcement act, known as the Mulberger law.

Hazelberg has obtained a number of convictions in the lower courts in cases where individuals, usually proprietors of soft drink parlors, had sold wine of peppin, beef, iron, and wine, and similar proprietary medicines.

All the preparations involved are claimed by the wholesale druggists to be authorized by the Volstead act and rulings thereunder, and a heavy business in them is being done all over the country.

DR. ROBERTSON SAYS ALL SHOULD BE VACCINATED

Urging that every citizen be vaccinated and revaccinated against smallpox, Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson yesterday issued a series of instructions to Chicagoans.

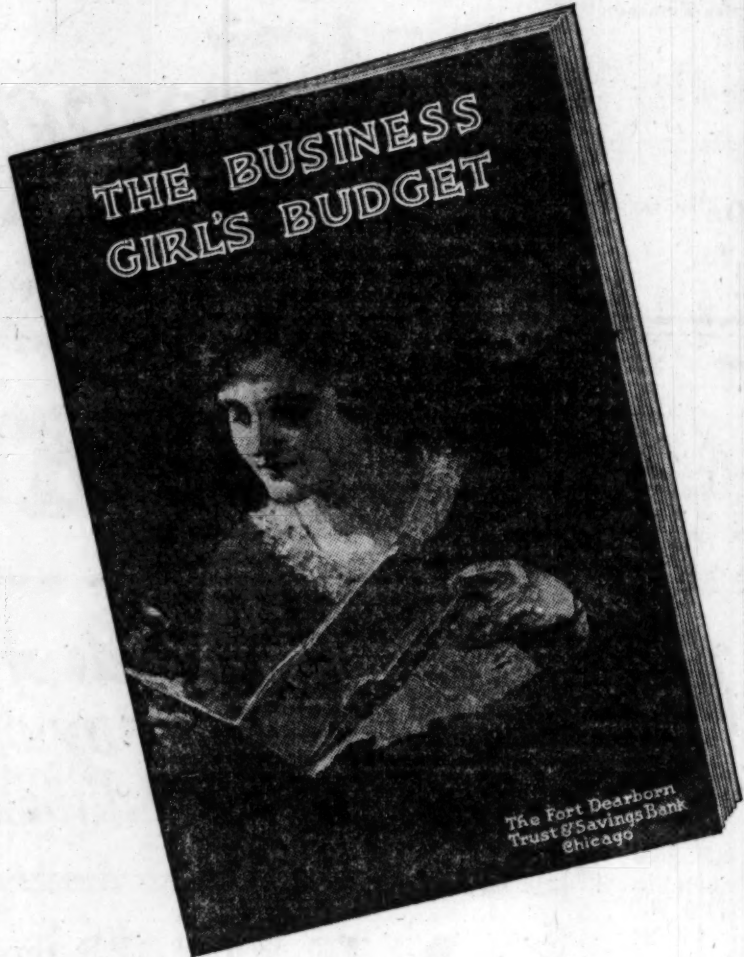

Dr. Robertson declared no one is immune from smallpox, and that one successful vaccination may be obtained on every person.

"With some persons one vaccination may be protective against smallpox for a lifetime; two vaccinations, one in infancy and another when 12 to 15 years of age, protect most people for life," he states. "In comparatively few will vaccination 'take' a third time."

"True vaccination, repeated until it no longer 'takes,' always prevents smallpox. Nothing else does."

GAS KILLS WOMAN.
Mrs. Anna Kowicz, 28 1/2 1222 Clearview street, was found dead in bed early yesterday. Gas was escaping from a light jet in an adjoining room and her husband, James Kowicz, was almost overcome. The police are satisfied it was an accident.

DEPENDABLE WOMEN want a dependable paper. Therefore THE TRIBUNE at the start of every day.

The man with an idea gets his chance at Inland

RED tape, pigeon holes, "wait-a-while" methods never stand in the way of any Inland man who wants to get the ear of his boss. From the "cinder snapper" to the mill superintendent, any man can get immediate action from his superior on any plan that will help Inland produce better steel or give better service.

This spirit of "do it now" and "all together for Inland" is a dominant force in every department. It is a constructive influence that works for individual welfare also. The best possible proof of this is found in the inspiring stories of Inland men who have risen from the ranks.

The feeling of partnership, an interest in the business, the encouragement of the boss, is helped along in a practical way by giving bonuses to the iron and steel makers, and by the Profit Sharing Plan that is open to all.

All these things are done at Inland with one sole object in mind—to insure and maintain Inland Quality for Inland customers.

Whatever your steel problem may be, bring it to Inland

A 178 page book in 44 chapters 20 cents

A 75,000-word novel costs two dollars. The January HOME JOURNAL, with its 120,000 words of stories, articles and helpful departments, costs 20 cents. Every issue of THE HOME JOURNAL is bigger than a big book—and costs one-tenth as much. Just see what 20 cents will buy:

What should you teach your children?

Do you believe Baby should be taught to walk? With whom should he play? With bad boys? How do you punish him—by a good, sound spanking or by the Pollyanna method? What do you do when he bumps his nose so that it bleeds? Do you bring up your youngsters to be little men and women—or just children? Doctor Myerson's common-sense talk about play, punishment, education and sickness is a rare, helpful treat. It is just one of the many features in the big New-Year's LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Radiant stories

A mystery story—"Out of the Fog." A young love story—"The Beach Comber." A success story—"The Failure." A funny story—"The Really Horrid Relation." An adventure story—"The Seven Conundrums."

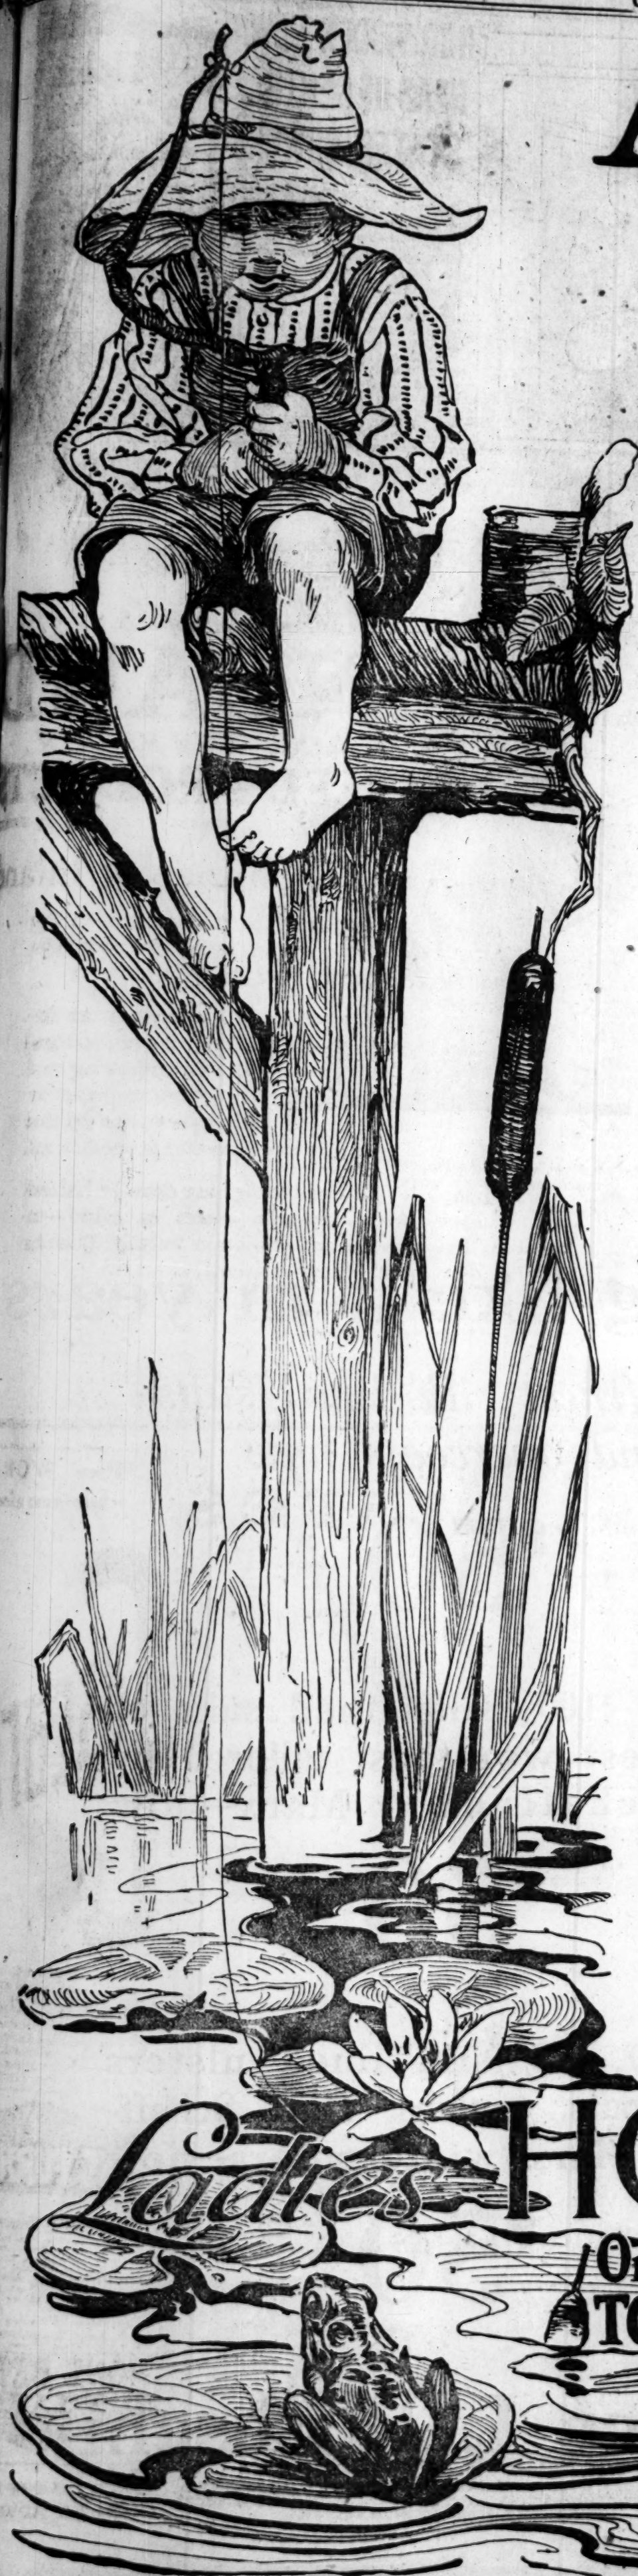

Inspiring articles

Something that every woman can do with her new vote—How to build up your health—What to do about the gamble in second marriage—the extravagance of the most spectacular seaside resort in the world—and six others—all in addition to other clever short stories, special features, regular departments, and eleven up-to-the-minute fashion pages.

Yearly subscriptions to begin with the January issue may be placed this week with your newsdealer or with any authorized subscription representative. Price $2.00 THE YEAR (Canada $2.50).

STICKS TO CREED OF SALVATION BY STARVATION

Janville Woman Passes
41st Foodless Day.

BY CHARLES SLOAN.

Janville, Ill., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The end of her forty-first day of self-imposed starvation in an effort to convert her husband to her creed of Christianity, Mrs. Sadie Harrington, 41, was still steadfast in her determination to refuse all food until she had achieved her purpose.

Her husband, Ernie Harrington, 40, a farmer, and a poultry man, was a staunch atheist. He has secured a lawyer to remain constantly at his bedside. Three meals a day are served her. He has engaged a physician to attend her, has telegraphed to his personal minister, and has endeavored to defend her constantly at his home. She has not been made to incriminate in case of her death.

"She can starve if she wants to," said the lawyer. "I am not going to do anything further—and I most certainly am not going to give up my poultry business here to become a preacher."

Does Not Yet Show Strain.

At the little home in North College street Mrs. Harrington lies in a darkened room. She cringes bits of food to her mouth as she talks to her friends, relatives, and curious neighbors who throng the house day and night. Around the walls of the room is a multitude of framed religious photographs.

Physicians who have examined her pulse and nerves are normal and that her system shows no evidence of a strain. Her voice was loud and strong when she told her story.

Tells of the "Call."

"It was Nov. 29, in the afternoon I was walking down the street and got spoke to me," she began.

"What did God say?" the reporter inquired.

"He told me he wanted my husband to be converted. He said I should deny him all food until my husband promised to give up his present world-ly business and become a missionary, preaching the true gospel to the ends of the earth."

"I haven't touched a bit of food since the first day I drank water. Since the first day I haven't had any desire to eat."

"I am not going to die. If I become weak from lack of nourishment I know heaven will send me a messenger to let me die until I am converted. I am not going to die until I am converted."

SUNDAY HIS "BLUE" DAY

Photographer catches Nero mourning because he gets no meat on the Sabbath.

It's a blue Sunday for Nero, except Sunday. Once each day the keeper comes along and throws him enough meat to fill up the larder of many a poor family, but Nero chews it up in no time and asks for more. He is 4 years old and was captured by Dr. D. B. Boyd of West Sacramento, Cal.

MEDILL SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM WILL OPEN FEB. 7

Members of Faculty Not Yet Named.

Afternoon and evening classes in the Joseph Medill School of Journalism will start Feb. 7 at Northwestern University building, Lake and Dearborn streets, Dean Ralph E. Heilmann of the school of commerce said yesterday.

Plans of the school, the founding of which was achieved by the university through the cooperation of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, have not been completed. Names of faculty members have not been announced.

Two and Four Year Courses.

The part time, four year course to be offered in Chicago comprises only one phase of the plans. It is for the convenience of newspaper workers in Chicago. Hours will be so arranged that persons can afternoon or morning sessions attend.

The full time course, for Evanston students, or beginners in journalism, will comprise two years. It will be open only to students who have completed two years of liberal arts work. This course will not be inaugurated until next fall.

Courses of Instruction.

There are to be three classes of instruction. First, those familiarizing the student with present day social, economic and political problems, and the general field of literature. Second, those which will develop his power of clear and effective expression. Third, those which will provide training in the technique and practice of modern journalism.

The Joseph Medill School of Journalism will be the only metropolitan news-training institution west of the Alleghenies.

HER SON'S WIFE STOLE CHILDREN, WOMAN BELIEVES

A country-wide search for the kidnapped children of Mrs. Myrtle Townsend Barnitz, sculptor and artist of Glenview, yesterday.

Houston, Tex., where live her eldest son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnitz.

The children are Clare Marie, 12 years old, the only metropolitan news-training institution west of the Alleghenies.

Case Picked as Warning to Slayers of Police.

Eddie Morris will be tried for the murder of Policeman Mullen within three weeks. This is the present plan of the state's attorney's office and Chief of Police Fitzmorris, and it will be the speediest trial for murder ever seen in Cook county, if the plans are not delayed.

"It is possible to have Morris up for trial in three weeks," First Assistant State's Attorney Edward S. Day said last night. "And the state's attorney's office will be every effort to putting it through at the first possible moment."

"We want this trial to show murderers of policemen how quickly justice can be meted out. It will go forward in accordance with the policy laid down two weeks ago by Chief Fitzmorris, State's Attorney Crowe, and Chief Justice McDonald to rush the trials of slayers of policemen with all speed. At that conference they decided on thirty days as the limit to get to court with these cases. This case, we hope, can be ready for trial in less than that."

Question Witnesses Today.

The police have their witnesses rounded up, and today many of them will be taken into the county jail hospital to make sure of their identification of Morris. They will probably also go before the grand jury today.

Lieut. James Walsh of North Halsted street station, Lieut. William H. Shoemaker, and Sgt. Michael Grady will confer with the state's attorney's office in laying out the case against Morris.

"I fear that an indictment against Morris cannot be voted tomorrow, but it certainly will be returned quickly," Assistant State's Attorney Day said.

Push Hunt for McBride.

Police search for Eddie McBride, pal of Eddie Morris, alleged slayer of Policeman Mullen, was pushed with renewed vigor yesterday. The police are following the same leads that resulted in the capture of Morris. Lieut. John Norton of the detective bureau and a squad of riflemen made two runs to the northwest side last night on tips that McBride could be found in that district. One squad is still working through that territory.

Morris is in the hospital at the county jail. Physicians say he will recover. Lieut. Norton last night questioned him in an attempt to gain clues to McBride.

"I cannot tell what I learned," the lieutenant said after questioning Morris.

"Crazy, but Did Not Kill."

Morris has been firm in his statements that he did not kill Policeman Mullen. "I was crazy with whisky, but I did not shoot Mullen," he told Assistant Jailer Lorenz Meisterheim time and time again.

"Who did kill the policeman?" he was asked. "I don't know," he answered. "I know that I did not do the shooting—I was crazy. I tell you. That moonshine had me crazy."

The Rev. Father O'Brien of the Holy Name cathedral was closeted with Morris for some time. The priest's presence was requested by the prisoner.

WOMAN TRIES TO 'BEAT UP' POLICE, CAUGHT IN RAID

An Amazonian young woman who threatened to "beat up" the police when they tried to approach her, was caught in a raid yesterday.

One of an alleged gang of robbers arrested last night in an apartment building at East Forty-third street and Calumet avenue, with Alfred Scott, 4225 Prairie avenue, who was arrested Saturday and on whose information the police acted yesterday.

accused of committing seven robberies Saturday night.

When the police closed in on the apartment the young woman, whose name was withheld, was subdued with difficulty.

The others arrested were Charles Zimmer, 17 years old, 4629 Calumet avenue; Thomas Stroble, 21 years old, alias "Dago New," 3032 South Wells street; and Frank Loomis, 18 years old, 1625 Prairie avenue. The young men have been identified by two victims.

Skipper Who Sailed Lakes for 50 Years Drops Dead

Henry R. Moore who for the last fifty years has sailed the Great Lakes and during recent years has captained his own ships, was found dead yesterday near the Garfield park refectory. Death apparently was due to heart disease. He was 75 years old.

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

What job have you got in sight?

Where Asked.

Canal at Madison street.

The Answers.

Theodore Metz, 609-11 West Madison street, farm hand and construction worker.

The last job I had was a construction job in Rochester, Minn. We were laid off about Thanksgiving day. I have been looking for work ever since, but found nothing to do. I have enough money to last two days. There's nothing in sight.

Andrew Molick, Workingman's palace, steel mill worker.

I have been out of work for six weeks. I have been looking everywhere for a job. They want you to join their union before you can get any job. The agencies want $5 to look for a job for you. The only job I can find is in northern lumber camps.

Dave Cummings, 21 South Morgan street, machine shop worker.

I got a job in Waukegan as a cafeteria cook, but things got dull and I was laid off. Nothing in sight. That's the whole story. I saved a few dollars and have only $10 left.

MINISTER TAKES TRIBUNE CARTOON AS SERMON TEXT

"Blue Law" Views Get Pulpit O. K.

Dr. Frederick P. Shannon, pastor of the Central church, took from page 1 of the Saturday issue of THE TRIBUNE the text for that portion of his Sunday morning sermon in Orchestra hall dealing with the proposed "blue laws."

John T. McCutcheon's cartoon, "Some People Who Are Trying to Force Blue Laws on the Country," inspired his remarks.

Cartoon Emphasizes Truth.

"McCutcheon has emphasized a truth in this cartoon," said Dr. Shannon. "He indicates a certain type of moving picture manager, the doctor who writes booze prescriptions, the theatrical manager who puts on the vilest plays, the cigar smoking society, the vulgar famine dresser, the social gambler, the press which makes a specialty of sensationalism—these, according to McCutcheon, are forcing the 'blue laws,' and the conclusion is logical."

Law Can't Do It All.

"These malefactors have carried their orgy of lawlessness so far that cent people are almost on the point of invoking blue or any other kind of laws to correct the present tendencies. But law cannot altogether succeed. We must have religion to the hearts of the people—that for which the true church always stands."

Blue laws would be a violation of the rights of Jews to religious liberty, Dr. Shannon declared yesterday at Sinai temple.

"To order people to sit around and do nothing would make more mischief," he said. "People should be happy. They may dance, as David danced before the harp. A good play may be just as religious as a sermon."

REFUSED KISS BY BRIDE, THEY SHOOT UP PLACE

Five young Russians were refused permission to kiss the bride at a two-day Polish wedding in the saloon of Stanley Korwacki at 1890 West Seventeenth street, left in a huff last night and later careened by the place in an automobile, firing a number of shots through the saloon windows.

John Kowalezyk, 224 West Eighteenth street, a guest, suffered a flesh wound in the right shoulder.

$50 FOR COURTESY

Checkroom Man at Hotel Wins Tribune Prize.

The problem yesterday seemed to be to find some one impolite. Courtesy seemed everywhere when THE TRIBUNE reporter set forth to find the most polite person.

Michigan boulevard was filled with charming young women and smiling young men. Not a frown. The search for the polite person seemed to end abruptly when a pretty miss dropped her handbag at the intersection of Madison and Boul Mich.

A handsome young man in a tan overcoat said "ouch" as he stepped forward at the risk of his life, snatched the pocketbook from in front of an oncoming taxicab. Then, with the most unaffected air in the world he returned it with a slight bow.

So Charming, but—

His reward was a flashing smile and "Thank you!"

"The pleasure is mine," he murmured. His eyes sought those of the girl. She walked away.

Greatly impressed, the courtesy detective approached the accommodating young man. The manner in which the thing had been done was striking. The most natural thing in the world, it appeared. The story or more of other young men standing at the intersection might have done some same thing, but with less grace.

"Pardon me, but can you direct me to the Art Institute?" the reporter ventured.

"O, ask some one else," came back in icy tones, and the young man hurried down the street, his eyes on the young woman, Gold turned to brass.

Guard Almost Wins $50.

The guards at the loop elevated stations were particularly polite. Working on Sunday seemed a pleasure to them. No. 2801, at Congress street station, is worthy of honorable mention. He was so extremely polite that had not another man been found he would have gained the $50.

Two men who wanted to go west, but who were fast going south, both figuratively and literally, were escorted by the accommodating guard across the lower bridge and led up on the platform on the other side, as directions seemed too puzzling for their befuddled brains.

In the Hotel.

The reporter sought the interior of the hotels, and stumbled across the thing hotels boast of—a pleasure to them. Particularly polite was the colored boy in the Hotel Morrison when the reporter complained he had lost the check to a bag he had left there Christmas week.

"Come right inside," he said, "and look for yourself."

He helped in the way to help find the bag, and was genuinely sorry when it was not discovered among the myriad of suitcases and handbags.

Aud polite was the check boy at the Hotel La Salle. But no invitation to look inside.

"You will have to wait until the house detective comes down and lets you identify the bag," he said. "So many people lose their checks."

The Winner Is Found.

After a wait he suggested the seeker come back in twenty minutes. But in that twenty minutes the reporter stumbled across a case of what might be called pristine politeness. It was in the Hotel Sherman. The tale of the lost bag was told. The checkroom man grew sympathetic and opened the half door.

"Come inside," he directed, "and look around."

He seemed to be as interested as the searcher for the bag. He carefully took the description and began an independent search. The reporter pulled down a stack of suitcases.

"That's all right," said the checkroom man. "It isn't this one, is it?"

But the bag was nowhere to be found. The reporter went to a chair in the lobby to ponder over his politeness prospects. Outstanding among them all was Isaac Odesher, the checkroom man at the Sherman. His was a manner—well, that could have been nothing else but polite. He was polite in the original, smiling, affable, natural politeness.

Doesn't Think He's Polite.

To him went the $50. He hurried to his home, 1231 South Pauline avenue, to tell his wife and six children. "I came from Russia twenty years ago," he explained. "I am not polite. I don't know what you mean."

GIRLS ACCUSED OF BEATING UP TAXICAB DRIVER

Miss Doris Nash of Belvidere, Ill., was taken back there last night to answer charges of having assaulted a taxicab driver. She was arrested in Hotel Grant on advice from Belvidere. With Miss Nash in the hotel was Miss Corinne Decker, who was also arrested, but later released.

According to information the police received, the girls and two sailors from Great Lakes Naval Training station hired a taxicab in Rockford and drove to Belvidere. When they reached the latter town it is charged the four beat the driver and took his taxicab.

The sailors and Miss Decker were arrested, but Miss Nash escaped. Later Miss Decker is said to have jumped a $500 bond and joined Miss Nash in Chicago. The police knew nothing of her alleged connection with the affair and released her. She is again sought.

Woman Killed by Auto Was Mrs. J. Withers

The woman killed Saturday night by an automobile at Drexel boulevard and East Forty-third street was identified yesterday as Mrs. J. Withers, 34, of 1024 East Forty-first place. Mrs. Freeman F. Pearson of 5516 Blackstone avenue, identified the body.

KERNEL COOTIE—PA'S CONCLUSIONS ARE FALSE

"JANUARY RISE" BRINGS RELIEF TO STOCK MARKET

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—When even the grain and cotton markets showed their own recovery, and the much apparent justice, to the advance in prices on the New York stock exchange, it will be evident that the "January rise" on Wall street is an importance quite apart from the relief which it has brought to holders of stocks and bonds. Something was accomplished by the recovery, and the foothold, lately prevalent, that all markets were hopelessly in the grip of malignant forces, which were arbitrarily putting down prices and destroying credit.

It is so far as the stock exchange is an indicator through its own rise and fall in prices of conditions which, in due course, will prevail in general industry, the character of the market at the first week of the new year had some interesting implications. In this regard we have yet to see how far the recovery is to be maintained; to what extent it is actually a lasting change of form or merely reaction from the purely excessive depression of the December financial markets.

Not Due to Easy Money. But this very comparison directs attention to the striking fact that the advance in stocks and bonds, thus far, is not due to easy money. The advance of last week's market was almost entirely at the level of Dec. 31 or the week ending Jan. 1, when the market was at its lowest point. The advance in stocks and bonds, thus far, is not due to easy money. The advance of last week's market was almost entirely at the level of Dec. 31 or the week ending Jan. 1, when the market was at its lowest point.

No Change in Redoubt. If there had been a complete change in the money situation since the beginning of the year the markets would probably have first learned the fact from reduction of their high redoubt rates by the federal reserve bank. There had been no such change. The New York reserve bank's own position, in fact, is as good as it was a week ago. The reserve system as a whole, however, made at the end of last week a distinctly better showing. Its percentage of cash reserves to deposits and notes and currency rose in the week from 38.4 to 40.4, and the higher figure is more favorable than has been reported at any time since Dec. 19, 1919.

Better Position Probable. When it is considered that the maximum reduction of loans in the whole season after Jan. 1 last year was 151,000,000 and the maximum reduction of circulation $215,000,000, and that the state of trade and prices is such today as to displace with a very great part of the credit and circulating medium which was deemed essential a year ago, the prospect for a progressively stronger reserve position at all events seems highly favorable.

Meantime the fact of the week's recovery on the stock exchange must be taken as meaning partly that the market itself is emerging from a period of black blutions.

U. S. TREASURY OFFERS NEW SETS OF CERTIFICATES. The United States government again this month will do a sizeable piece of financing. The federal treasury today will offer two new series of its certificates of indebtedness to which public subscriptions totaling about $250,000,000 are desired. The proceeds will be used to pay off $125,000,000 of certificates maturing next Saturday and for current requirements.

Apparently treasury officials do not expect interest rates to decline much in the months maturing April 15, with the other Oct. 15. Both issues are long term, neither being acceptable in payment of federal income and profits taxes. Certificates maturing next Saturday will be accepted in payment for the new issues.

The Undersigned Firms and Institutions Offer for Subscription $30,000,000 Northwestern Bell Telephone Company First Mortgage Twenty-Year 7% Bonds, Series "A" DUE FEBRUARY 1, 1941

The President of the Company, W. B. T. Bell, Esq., has given us the following information about the company's business, which information may be obtained in greater detail upon request:

THE Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. is a subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which owns all of its outstanding $42,150,000 stock. The company constitutes the Bell System Operating Company in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota.

THESE bonds will, after July 1, 1921, constitute the company's only funded debt and are to be secured by a first lien on all the telephone plant of the Company with the exception of that in North Dakota, and as to property in that state, any future mortgage debt created must be subordinated to this issue. The bonds represent only about 40% of the mortgaged property's book value of $73,000,000, which is less than its appraised value.

AS against the interest requirements of $2,100,000 annually for this issue, the company's available net earnings for 1920

Subject to issue and to the approval by our counsel of the corporate proceedings, the above bonds are offered for subscription at 96 1/2% and accrued interest, yielding over 7.30% from the date of payment to February 1, 1921, when interest will begin to accrue on the bonds.

Subscription books are now open at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. and subscriptions are being received, subject to allotment, for payment about January 19, 1921. The right is reserved to reject any applications, and to award smaller amounts than are applied for.

Temporary bonds or trust receipts of J. P. Morgan & Co. will be delivered pending the receipt of the definitive bonds.

With Further Possibilities

THE Company's earnings during the past twelve years have averaged 40% on outstanding capital. Profits for 1921 are estimated at over one million dollars. The Company is benefited by declining prices in raw materials. Sales show a constant increase. The business is world-wide in its character, being as well known abroad as at home. These shares are preferred as to assets and dividends. The regular dividend, payable quarterly, beginning February 1st, nets the purchaser, at the present offering price, over 9%. In addition these shares participate in further earnings and therefore have great possibilities for profit. A circular covering all details and giving a history of the Company will be mailed, without obligation, upon request.

1921 Will Reward Fighters

LONDON STOCKS SLUMP AFTER EARLY ADVANCE

BY MANFRED EMANUEL.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The new year opened comparatively cheerfully on the stock exchange. Liquidation apparently has come to an end. Many bears thought it advisable to cover. Some buying orders of a purely professional nature gave this fact the appearance of market confidence, though public interest still remained at a low level. Towards the end of the week the position changed once more for the worse. A financial failure, added to the rumors of difficulties in many directions, caused a feeling of uneasiness. While there was no real weakness, the tone became decidedly dull.

Gold edged stocks were better. Oils have been supported, but Kaffirs have failed, so far, to attract the attention they deserve.

Some industrial stocks have been in demand. A feature, if only a small one, has been the strength of the rubber share market. Bears in that commodity have been covering. With the sharp rise in raw rubber, few buying orders on a poorer supplied market have resulted in a general rally, which may make further headway.

Generally speaking, the market position is uncertain. Trade is poor, and the situation as regards the continent as a purchaser still is undetermined. The unemployment problems are as acute as ever—so the markets must, it seems, remain in a somewhat hope-less, helpless state until some factor lifts them out of the rut. What that factor may be or from which direction it may come none dare at present prophesy.

Fete's Military
The ceremonies were of a military character. They were under the direction of Brig. Gen. [illegible] adjutant general.

The celebration began with the reporting of the governor's executive mansion to the representatives, where he presided. The 250 piece band of Illinois led the parade.

1,400 members of the training corps from fully equipped. Following the cadre officers of five infantry the federalized
